

EmanciFair

A Sing out for World Peace

“If you plan for one year grow cotton. If you plan for ten years grow trees. If you plan for 100 years grow men”

The purpose of education is to train a generation with the proper curriculums, behaviors and the experience necessary to resolve a community’s conflicts and develop solutions for the community’s problems, that will protect them against threats from forces both within and outside. Therefore, for education to be successful, the community and student must form a bond, work together and demonstrate the following:

1. A shared interest.
2. An identifiable, shared purpose with measureable results.
3. A sustained, long term, and committed investment in the student.

NewNegro Media would like to sponsor four networking events between Local Area High Schools and at large communities. The purpose of these events is to forge a working relationship between the American business community, educators and high school students by celebrating the passage of the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments to the U.S Constitution.

The events, conducted quarterly, will be called “EmanciFair”. For all participants, it is the time to thank God for giving our American Ancestors of African Descent and American Citizens outside the African race for their courage, perseverance and intellect to free our great nation from the bondage of slavery; while recognizing their devotion to unity in God, faith in their collective sacrifices bonded together by blood on the battlefield, in order to preserve our nation, these United States of America thru their combined honor, intelligence, integrity and supreme nobility.

By building on that legacy, EmanciFair will identify and began grooming the residents capable of building industry in impoverished areas, and redefine patriotism beyond angry, violent white men, who believe our nation and its great history is solely for the descendants of slave masters who fornicate on our constitution and believe the democracy is meant to preserve and defend racial supremacy.

These events are educational and economic informal gatherings that recognize talents in the areas of Arts, Sciences and Literature. If successful selected students, along with members of the at large community will forge a bond and began working together, employing scientific models that identify the obstacles, develop future economic opportunities, and project the future threats to the community's economic welfare and public safety, from within an intellectual environment, relying on knowledge and reasonable conclusions; as opposed to protest marches, public opinion and fear. Yes, there is Free Speech, and Free Silence.

To participate, each member organization, group, or family must value education and share a single-mindedness of purpose to establish six moral pillars in the community:

1. Believe in God
2. Do not murder.
3. Do Not Steal
4. Honor your mother and father.
5. Respect every person regardless of race or opposite sex.
6. Protect the environment
7. Respect the flag

In 2019 Business leaders will select students for enrollment in a ten year after school leadership development program. Selected, if they continue their education, maintain moral standards and work in selected areas will be awarded a ten-year paid stipend of $721.00 per month.

Beginning their sophomore year, high school students can apply for enrollment. If selected, successful students will have completed a ten year curriculum in one of three areas:

1. Government,
2. Economic Development
3. Social/Mass Media.
4. Math and Sciences

The selection of internship participants is a nonpartisan and impartial. Students must be entering their high school sophomore year with a 3.0 freshmen GPA to apply. A minimum of 100 interns will be selected, beginning January 2020.

EmanciFair is not a religious event. However, it is most certainly spiritual. It is a five hour celebration dedicated to love, peace and creativity- God's greatest endeavors. Featuring workshops, lectures, food, fashion, dancing and live entertainment. Emancifair is a fun event for the entire family

EmanciFair is not self-congratulatory or living in the past. Quite simply, it is a rare combination of intellect and entertainment in a carnival atmosphere. It is an afternoon event between the hours 12pm-6pm and the target market is organizations, groups and families. If any group, organization or family can attract and sells a minimum of 150 tickets ($25.00 per ticket) for each event, New Negro Media will provide a yearly budget of $12,000.00 towards the live entertainment, programming, food, security, promotions and crowd control, to cover the cost of four events per year, beginning January 2018.

All proceeds from the events after cost go towards establishment of an endowment to cover the cost of a ten-year stipend for a minimal of 100 students beginning January 2020. As compensation for their work, each organization, group or family will receive 30% of all profits generated by ticket sales for each event, and 10% of advertising revenues. In exchange, New Negro Media will have final authorization and be the exclusive vendor for the event.

This is my country. I believe such an event is needed now more than ever. It will not only serve the best interest of all parties involved, but continue the legacy of unity of purpose and supreme nobility to serve the best interest of our great nation, these United States of America.

Looking forward to an early response.

Sincerely Derrick Williams
